

The EdUHK Mentorship Programme

We would like to start off by thanking for this outstanding opportunity given to us ethnic minorities, knowing these types of programmes are scarce. With the warm and welcoming environment and engaging activities, it is safe to say, the experience was top-notch.

The EdUHK Mentorship Programme is intended for ethnic minority students with exceptional potential who want to become teachers. It enlightened us on university applications and diverse educational fields for prospective educators. The programme included lectures on various topics that undergraduates are studying and hands-on workshop experience on interview skills and personal development.

The lecture on Primary ELT Methods I: Developing Oracy Skills by Ms. Clarine Chan truly awestruck and astonished us. It was about different methods of approaching primary children through teaching. One of the amazing part was when Ms. Chan explained how a piece of writing or story could be perceived entirely differently with and without images.

Throughout her explanation, it became clear to us that virtual images are crucial when reading to or instructing children since they help them absorb concepts more thoroughly. It cultivated our perspective on how primary children can make development.

Learning Chinese is a tremendous challenge for ethnic minority students. We frequently find ourselves with limited resources, making it difficult to enhance our Chinese language abilities. However, the session Introduction to Jyutping and Teaching Chinese as a second language introduced us to multiple resources, which are beneficial for improving Chinese oracy skills.

Overall, the programme was perfect. We are pretty sure this has helped many students out in having a clearer path to their career destination. Our grasp of the educational field has been enriched by this Mentoring Programme's informative lessons. We would, in no doubt, join again if similar programmes were arranged in the future.
